

Walking with Women

May 2024

Come and spend a weekend dropping into the world of story. Gather around the fire and walk with others amongst tales of women. Whether its maiden, mother or crone, there's a story to tell with a gift for those who want to hear. The weekend is about entering women's storied lives, becoming familiar with the turns in the tale of the feminine path. We will meet a handless maiden, a half-girl and fox women - perhaps even a woman that marries a bear.

Over the weekend I am interested to explore tales that have had me wondering about the lives of the women I love and live with, and those I am amongst in my day to day life. It is intended as an honouring of those lives, not an explanation. All are welcome. The centre-piece of the programme is the collection of stories themselves, with opportunities in between for time outside and for reflection.
